Focus in an open plan work environment

The Ahrend Concentration Corner is specifically designed to create more peace and allow for focus in an open-plan work environment. Use the Concentration Corner as an individual workstation, meeting space or a place for an informal chat, to give employees an opportunity to concentrate and collaborate effectively.

The modular structure of the Concentration Corner provides an ideal solution for every activity. You can also expand the Concentration Corner range and compose it differently. Is there a need for privacy? Opt for the visual partitions with noise reduction.

The Concentration Corner absorbs noise from its surroundings, ensuring better acoustics both inside and around the Concentration Corner.

The Hybrid Working Community

Work environments are changing at a rapid pace. Employees work from home (even) more often, which means the office environment is morphing into a meeting place for colleagues. An open-plan environment supports connections between people.

A flexible shell of physical workstations is created around the meeting space. Employees choose the workstation that suits their activities best at that moment. Support employees by facilitating optimal workspaces with technical solutions like the Concentration Corner, enabling every employee to create their unique work journey. This is exactly what the hybrid work environment means to us.

The system is both flexible and modular. The configuration can easily be adapted.

Stimulate communication

Open plan, or more secluded?
The Concentration Corner strikes the ideal balance, offering a partially enclosed workspace. With the modular system, you can create a workstation that suits your employees' mode of communication. Perfect for making calls, working, informal chats or meetings; something for everyone.

Work in peace

A sense of connectedness - that is the aim of any hybrid work environment. But concentrating can sometimes be difficult. With the Concentration Corner, you can create space for concentration and respond to flexible needs. The configuration can easily be changed to meet the specific needs of your employees.

Always connected

The combination of digital and physical collaboration is here to stay in the modern office environment, and the Concentration Corner is equipped with technical solutions to facilitate this. A wide range of accessories allow for data provision and an integrated power supply. Get to work with any device!

Collaboration

Different forms of cooperation arise within the hybrid work environment. This demands solutions to enable working together without distractions, in spaces that support this. The Concentration Corner allows you to create a partly enclosed space where employees can work comfortably for both longer and shorter periods.

02 Acoustics

A range of activities take place within an open work environment, each with specific noise levels. Need to focus on your work, away from distractions? The Concentration Corner is the ideal solution. The system has been designed to have perfect acoustics.

The thickness of the panels, the dimensions and the positioning of the sound-absorbing material have all been fine-tuned to ensure optimum acoustics both inside and outside the panels, as the Concentration Corner has a sound-absorbing effect for the rest of the environment too.

Heightened focus in an open-plan office and optimum acoustics for every task.

Options

The Concentration Corner range is totally modular. There is a wide choice of finishes, panels, tabletops, fabrics, colours and accessories. The perfect Concentration Corner can be assembled entirely according to your needs.

The Concentration Corner is easily dismantled. The system is placed independently in the space, without fixing it to the floor, making it easy to adapt or relocate the structure. This maximum flexibility is ideal when needs are changing rapidly.

Lighting

Add the perfect finishing touch to the Concentration Corner, with the right desktop lighting. Choose the Kelvin fixture from Flos, or the Pastille fixture from Westberg. These high-quality fixtures are fitted with a low-energy LED source. Both lamps can be fitted to the desktop or the arm of the seating element (the latter always in combination with a desktop).

Desktops

The range includes a wide choice of desktops to ensure that the Concentration Corner always matches the ambiance and style of the rest of the environment. The design features soft shapes, making the Concentration Corner inviting to use. From focused working to brainstorming sessions; everything is possible.

Screen bracket

An optimum workstation offers plenty of technical solutions. The Concentration Corner is easily upgraded with an integrated screen bracket. This helps employees to have both physical and digital meetings.

Ahrend PuK

Place your phone on the built-in Ahrend PuK to charge it wirelessly. The charger adds extra comfort and convenience to the Concentration Corner. No more searching for plugs or fumbling with cables.

Power outlet

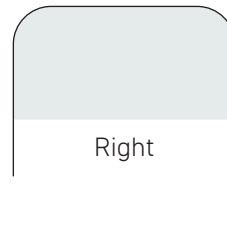

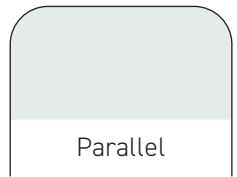

The Concentration Corner can be fitted with smart power solutions. Choose from cable routing integrated into the desktop, the Ahrend PuK or a built-in unit with power and USB connections.
